ENGLISH LETTER.

Depressed Condition of the Lace and Hosiery Trade.

Exhibitions and Sports—British Columbians in England.

NOTTINGHAM, Oct. 13th, 1885.

Perhaps a few jottings from this part of the world would be acceptable to your numerous readers. As most every one knows this is the great manufacturing town of Great Britain, but trade seems to have departed from us, and things at present are in a bad state, yes in a very depressed one, and hundreds are out of work and "hard-up." We need not look far back when the lace and hosiery trade was in a most flourishing condition and the twist hands or lace machine minders earned their five and six pounds a week; but they reaped so great advantage from the brisk times and spent their money on spreeing as quickly as it came into their hands, and now they are glad of three cents to get a "sup o' ale wid it." What is the cause of this great depression? Like in all other branches of industry, it is attributed to foreign competition, over production and minor causes. Swiss lace is now having a great run on the market, and the reason is that it is sold so much cheaper is that foreign workingmen's wages are far lower than in Nottingham, and our manufacturers will never be able to hold their own till a new and lower scale of wages is constructed, and meetings are now being held relative to that object, however good authorities assert that the lace and hosiery trade will never see such good times as have been experienced in the past. At present many mills are shut down and many are running half-time, or just keeping a few hands going. One firm, I know, have dischaged ten men out of the dozen and would be glad to close down altogether for the present, only they must keep their machines running so as to keep them from spoiling.

LACE AND HOSIERY

THE GOOSE FAIR.

Our great annual goose fair of three days' duration has just been held, and taking all into consideration, was quite a success as far as attendance was concerned., for vast crowds flocked into town from all parts to enjoy "the fun of the fair," no doubt the fine weather having a great tendency to fetch them out. We had the usual number of shows, including Wombwell's menagerie, so that there was plenty of amusement catered for the public. The great fun seemed to be concentrated on one street facing the market place, up and down which young fellows and young women rushed in crowds, many having brushes with which they gave you a dab in the face as they passed. There was the usual one or two killed accidentally, as is nearly always the case at fair time. Our usual two days' racing followed the fair, and there were not only large entries but fine racing, although the first day's sport was marred by a continuous down-pour, which lasted the whole day; however the second day was gloriously fine, and a vast crowd took advantage to see the seven races run which turned out rather bad for the favorites.

SPORTS.

Nottingham not only has the reputation for cricket, but has two champion football teams, and one of its teams (Notts County) play the celebrated Preston North End team here next Saturday, and great interest is concentrated on the match, as the Prestonians have won two matches out of three and I expect to see 15,000 spectators gathered at Trent Bridges next Saturday. I have seen 20,000 people gathered there to see an English Cup Tie match; quite a sight I assure you.

THE INVENTORIES.

There is another thing Nottingham excells in, and that is in singing, for they won the £100 prize competition for all England at the Inventories the other day. I had the pleasure of accompanying the 218 singers per special train from here and was present in the great Albert Hall to hear them sing. Lancashire carried second prize. I must say I was highly delighted with my two days' visit to the Inventories, and although I have seen the Philadelphia Exposition, Paris and Brussells Exhibitions, nothing pleased me better than the great Inventories, especially the great illuminations at night. The great affair closes next month, the Prince of Wales performing the ceremony.

BRITISH COLUMBIANS.

I had the pleasure of calling on Mr. Beeton, your agent-general while in London, and a more courteous and obliging gentleman I never met. He entertains great hopes for the future of British Columbia, but of course says "we must not expect too much at once, as all takes time." Unfortunately I was unable to meet Mr. J. H. Turner, or Mr. Jos. Wilson, but had the pleasure of seeing Mrs. W. J. Goepel and Miss Bates who, I hear have returned and hope they have reached Victoria all safe.

Mr. S. Bednall leaves Liverpool next Thursday for Victoria. During his stay in England he has made many staunch friends and has traveled extensively over the Island. He has been several times to Nottingham to visit me and was greatly taken up with our fine town of over 200,000 inhabitants. May he have a safe journey home.

THE STAGE.

The several places of amusement I visited in London all seemed crowded, but the great thing was Mr. Augustus Harris' melodramatic bit in "Human Nature," at Drury Lane Theatre, a title which somehow does not fit in with the play as a whole. Almost any play could be called by the same title, seeing that the players are men and women. But, odd to say, the only genuine bit of nature in the highly artificial drama was exemplified by a horse—a veritable charger, which had seen service in Egypt. In the play there is a capital representative of a mob welcoming home a victorious regiment in Charing Cross. The shouting and rushing and scrambling are realistic, and the charger objected in a very threatening manner. At one time it was feared he would take a header into the stalls, but, when the turmoil was at its height, the guards' band was heard playing "See the Conquering Hero Comes;" and, as it marched on to the stage, the horse became suddenly quiet, and drew up, as if on parade, stiff and still. As a spectacular effect the piece is beyond praise. Miss Bateman is not sympathetic, but she shows careful study. The death scene of the poor little orphan boy, starved and ill-treated to death by the wretched old ... is painfully grotesque. The Arab costumes, the very weapons were not imitations—everything was real. The piece has been produced regardless of cost.

A NAVIGATION EXHIBITION.

Liverpool is about to emulate Kensington in the matter of exhibitions. The success of the Healtheries, the Fisheries, and the Inventories has promoted the mayor of the second seaport in the world to suggest an International Exhibition of navigation, traveling, commerce, and manufacture, and his suggestion has received so much support that the exhibition will be held next year. It is to be opened about the middle of May, and will remain open for six month, so that there will be plenty of opportunities for the vast population of the countries bordering upon Liverpool and elsewhere to visit it.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. J. Matthews has gone to San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Farrar left by the Queen for San Francisco to-day.

Mr. C. E. Perry, C. E., went to San Francisco by the Queen to-day.

Captains A. C. and J. McLean embarked on the Queen for San Francisco to-day.

Mrs. A. Allan was one of the passengers for San Francisco by the Queen to-day.

Rev. Mr. Barss and wife have returned to the city. The Rev. gentleman is much improved in health.

Miss Stevens, daughter of U. S. Consul Stevens, left on the Queen of the Pacific this morning. Miss Stevens will remain in San Francisco this winter pursuing her vocal studies with her cousin, Miss Jerome.

The Olympian brought the following passengers: M Morgan, S Mann, H Baker, S Long, Mrs S Rae, Mrs Mudlow, Miss Mudlow, Rev W Barss and wife, A F Hayden, Miss Kearney, A Duglas, J C McKenzie, J F Bennet, J H Basseler, B Wrede, R Stark, B Daley, L B Stearns, G McColskery, G Hall, J B Lancashire, J M McDonald, G Griffiths, M McKay, A J Baker, C H Gardner, Mrs Davis, M J Carkeek, W A Anderson, Judge Swan, W Hosford.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

The Queen of the Pacific sailed for San Francisco to-day at noon, carrying the following passengers: Wm. Farrar, Mrs Farrar, Mrs Mitchell, Mrs R B Powell, Dr J Matthews, J Gray, S Gray, C E Perry, Mr Morton, H E Simmons, Miss Tanner, Mrs Renwick, J K Kelly, W Adams and wife, F S Allen, Mrs Allen, Wm Daley, Mr and Mrs Cheney, J F Gibson, Miss Berringer, J McLean, A C McLean, A Requa. There were also 23 in the steerage.

VICTORIA THEATRE.

The Milton Nobles company, on its opening night at the Victoria, was greeted with a large audience. The melodrama of "Love and Law," in four acts was presented, with the aid of the splendid stage accessories that are now at the service of the profession, in a manner worthy of the reputation of the company. The leading character, Felix O'Paff, a New York attorney-at-law, was taken by Mr. Nobles, who personated the jovial, cheeky, kind-hearted and impecunious lawyer to perfection. The character of "Bitta," a young Italian street singer, was charmingly rendered by Mrs. Nobles. The role is a difficult one, as is also that of Giovanni Conti, the brutal organ grinder, in whose service the girl was compelled to live. Mr. Barnum's "Conti" was a splendid piece of acting. Miss Tillie Barnum, as "Kitty O'Rourke," Miss Davenport as "Old Ross," and C. R. Warren as "Jimmie Nipper," portayed their several characters to perfection. It is not too much to say that each individual member of the company performed his or her part in a faultless and realistic manner. There are no poor or mediocre players in the combination. The stage appearance and magnificent dresses have never been surpassed in Victoria. The only defect observable was in the enunciation of several of the parts, but that was probably due to the deficient acoustic properties of the building. It has probably struck others, as it has the writer, that there is a very serious defect in this respect, which it may be possible to rectify. To-night "The Phenix" will be presented, when a crowded house will most assuredly greet this talented company upon its second appearance.

THE MALCOLM CASE.

British despatches announce that the second trial of James Malcolm, alias Captain McDonald, in Brighton, England, resulted in a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was sentenced to penal servitude for seven years. It was proved that in April last he had married Miss Emma Dash at St. James' Church, Brighton, having another wife living. All the witnesses present at the marriage, including the clergyman who performed the ceremony, swore most unhesitatingly to the identity of Malcolm with the Captain Macdonald who married Miss Dash. On the other hand, a long list of witnesses swore Malcolm was not Captain Macdonald, and many swore to his being away at the time Miss Dash and her husband spent their honeymoon together.

RETURN TO CANADA.

The Victoria papers speak of Lord Lansdowne's "return to Canada." In what part of the world may British Columbia chance to be located?—[Winnipeg Manitoban.]

The same form of expression is used in the Maritime provinces to describe Ontario and Quebec, and we are not altogether sure that it has not been heard in Manitoba. A gentleman recently returned from the sea coast tells of a man whom he heard thanking his lucky stars because he was not a Canadian, but a Nova Scotian.—London Advertiser.

CANADIAN PACIFIC STOCK.

The shares of the Canadian Pacific Railway rose on the 26th, on the New York market to 49¾, closing at 49, being an advance of 1¼ over former day's prices, and in London a still greater jump was made, closing at 51⅜, an advance of 2½. This may have been owing to the report cabled to Montreal yesterday that Baring Bros. had agreed to lend the C. P. R. Co. a large sum of money to repay the Canadian government, if that should be necessary.

MARINE NOTES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Arrived: Servia, Gallia and India.

A ship, name unknown, sailed up the straits to-day.

The tug Alexander towed a ship to sea and returned to Nanaimo this forenoon.

The Queen of the Pacific arrived at 8:20 last night from the Sound and left at noon to-day for San Francisco.

Reduced to Eleven Miles

To Complete the Canadian Pacific Railway from Quebec to Port Moody.

Last Spike to be Driven on Friday, if Weather is Favorable.

Telegraph Connection to be Made To-morrow, Wednesday.

KAMLOOPS, Nov. 3.—Track laying reached Griffin Lake last night. The gap left then unconnected between the ends of the track on the east and on the west sides was eleven miles. Superhuman efforts are being made to have everything in readiness for driving the last spike on Friday. If the weather proves favorable the important event will take place on that day at a point 6½ miles east of Eagle Pass Landing. Mr. W. C. Van Horne, a few of the directors and officers of the company, and a few invited guests, left Montreal on Monday morning by special train to be present at the ceremony, which will be of a quiet, unostentatious character. On the completion of the ceremony Mr. Van Horne, accompanied by some of the directors and officers, will proceed to Port Moody, from which point they will proceed by steamer along the Inlet to Vancouver, where the site for the future terminus will be inspected and the location of the terminal facilities decided on. A visit will be made to Victoria, the dry dock at Esquimalt, and the Island railway. The visit will be a necessarily brief one.

It is expected the telegraph line from the east will connect the line from the west to-morrow. No business, excepting that of the company, will be transacted till next spring.

ANOTHER MURDER.

Michael Nee, of Amador, Cal., Shot at Harrison River.

PORT MOODY, Nov. 3.—This afternoon some Indians discovered the body of Michael Nee of Amador, Cala., lying in a root house at Harrison river. They supposed the man to be sleeping, and called to him several times. Receiving no answer they notified several of the citizens who went to the place where the body was lying, and on examining it they found a bullet hole behind the ear. From the appearance of the wound it is supposed Nee was murdered last Sunday. There are a number of Chinamen living near by, and it is supposed they are the guilty parties.

STEAD'S TRIAL.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Mr. Stead, editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, continued his testimony on the opening of the Central Criminal Court to-day. He declined giving names of persons alleged to be guilty of the infamy charged in the Gazette's statement, on the ground that he had promised his informants to observe secrecy in that respect. He stated that he had gained his information by drinking champagne and spending his money in brothels. Stead then offered to call the witness, but Justice Lopes declined. His Honor likewise declined the evidence of the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Mr. Stead admitted that he might have been muddled somewhat as to the statements of Mrs. Jarrett. The Attorney-General twitted Stead over his assumed simplicity, and said that Eliza had been taken a distance of three hundred miles in a single night by a man who was her only companion. Stead said he had entrusted the details of the affair to Bramwell Booth. The defence closed their side of the case this afternoon. Justice Lopes directed the jury to return a verdict of "not guilty" as to one of the defendants, Eliza Boothcoombe, of the Salvation Army, who testified that she acted entirely under the directions of Bramwell Booth.

Howard Vincent, the well known newspaper correspondent, who re-organized the detective system of the Metropolitan Police, with the designation of Director of Criminal investigations, and Lord Dalhousie testified to the magnitude of the infamous traffic in young girls for immoral purposes on the continent.

A FANTASTIC EXCUSE.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—The Journal de St.-Petersburg, commenting upon the speech of Count Kalnosky, Austrian-Hungarian Foreign Minister, on Saturday last, says the speech strikes one by its marked clearness and the correct ideas expressed. The Journal denounces Bulgaria for seeking to enlist the sympathy of the western powers by justifying a union of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia as measures necessary to prevent a Russian protectorate, which the Journal asserts is a fantastic excuse.

MRS. LANGTRY'S DEBTS.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The case of Mrs. Langtry, for refusing to pay household debts, contracted while living with her husband, came up to-day before the Brompton County Court. Mrs. Langtry did not appear; judgment was given for the plaintiff.

SNOW IN THE BALKANS.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Snow is beginning to impede the Balkan pass.

A HEAVY LOAN.

ATHENS, Nov. 3.—The Minister of Marine will ask a credit of sixty million dollars.

THE RASCALS OF NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A report was published yesterday that warrants were out for Mayor Grace and others, accusing them of complicity in the frauds of Ward & Fish. United States District Attorney said the story is absolutely false; there are no indictments, and none could be found before Thursday, as the U. S. Grand Jury is not in session until that day. Warrants need not wait for indictments; but so far as known and so far as proceedings in the U. S. Courts are concerned, there are no warrants now out. Of course nothing can be said as to what warrants may be issued or against what parties. As to Mayor Grace, no evidence has been offered to connect him in any criminal way with the proceedings of Ward, or show him guilty in any way.

The State Elections

To-Day in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Maryland and Colorado.

NEW YORK ELECTION.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The weather is cool, clear and delightful, and gives every promise of remaining so all day. In the eastern part of the state, throughout the Mohawk Valley, and other points further north, heavy snow seems to have prevailed, and it is likely bad roads in these districts will be the cause of a lighter vote than would otherwise be cast. Both political parties are confident of success, the Democratic committee still claiming thirty thousand majority for Governor Hill. The Republicans are a little more modest, but while giving no figures, claim Davenport's election. Betting last evening was in favor of the Democrats at 10 to 9 in some places, and at others 10 to 7 on Davenport, but it is hinted that the figures on both sides are made to order for telegraphic use in outside districts to keep up the courage of the faithful.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Republican state headquarters claim that a larger Republican vote is being polled throughout the state than ever before. The headquarters of the Democratic State Committee is crowded with visitors. It is said they had not a single charge of cutting or trading votes. A dispatch was sent out over the State declaring that New York City Democrats were voting solidly and would give the State ticket fifty thousand majority. It was stated then that more than half of the votes of the entire city had been polled.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 3.—The day opened cloudy, with occasional squalls of rain, sleet and snow. The rain last night and yesterday has put the roads in a very bad condition. The election is proceeding quietly here and the vote bids fair to be heavy.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The weather is cool and bracing. A heavy vote is being polled, but it is being done quietly. Most voters have their ballots ready before going to the polls. The same story of quiet election but heavy voting, comes from King's County.

IN PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—A hasty review of the voting throughout the city this morning shows the polling is fully up to the average and that less scratching is being done than was expected. The Republican state ticket is generally receiving the full vote of the party, and there is no doubt, from the present indications, that Quay, Republican candidate for State Treasurer, will receive at least ten thousand majority in the city. There is some scratching of Rowan, Republican candidate for Sheriff. The election of the rest of the Republican city ticket is conceded.

IN VIRGINIA.

PETERSBURG, Va., Nov. 3.—The weather is beautiful, and throughout the State, as far as heard from, the expectation is that the vote will average pretty well up to the Presidental vote of 1884. Voting here is proceeding very quietly, and as all the liquor saloons were closed at sunset last evening not to reopen until Wednesday morning, there is a peaceful polling of the vote, and no disturbance anticipated during the day.

IN MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 3.—The election in Maryland is for Comptroller of State, Clerk of the Court of Appeals, all the members of the House of Delegates, and nineteen members of the Senate. The election is proceeding very quietly, and thus far less excitement is manifested than in the Mayoralty election. The contest is between friends and enemies of Senator Gorman.

IN COLORADO.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 3.—The election is passing off quietly; the weather is warm and sunny. The only state officer to be elected is the Judge of the Supreme Court.

FAILURE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Friedlander & Stern, wholesale dealers in ladies' furnishing goods, have assigned to Judah Newman for the benefit of their creditors.

SWORN IN.

PRESCOTT, A. T., Nov. 3.—Honorable C. Meyer Zulick took the oath of office as Governor of Arizona yesterday evening. Chief Justice Howard administered the oath.

A NAIL PANIC.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 3.—There is a nail panic in Pittsburg and throughout the west on account of a nailers' strike. Nails are difficult to obtain at $3.25 per keg, and all that has been sold in this market for the last six weeks has been manufactured in the east. Builders and contractors are complaining bitterly about having to pay such enormous prices for nails, and in one or two extreme instances work on buildings, now urgent, has been temporarily suspended here in view of the strike coming to an end. Both sides still stand out, and an early settlement is not considered probable.

ANOTHER ROW IN HAYTI.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—The internal troubles in Hayti have caused the British and French representatives in that country to telegraph their respective governments to send men-of-war there at once, to protect foreign residents.

THE SOUTHERN CHIEF.

The bark Southern Chief arrived at Seattle Sunday morning, with 150 Chinamen aboard from Portland and Tacoma. She was docked at Yesler's wharf and took on 11,000 gallons of water and twenty-five Chinamen, sailing at 3 a. m. on Monday for this port. Her list of passengers will here be swelled to the full complement she can carry, and she will sail for Hongkong as soon as they are all aboard. From the mizzen-mast of the bark a pennant floats bearing the legend "The Chinese are going."

CAPTAIN TOM WRIGHT.

Intense interest was manifested at Seattle during the trial of Captain Tom Wright on a charge of carrying explosives on the Anderson. The crowded audience in the court room remained till far into the night and broke into vociferous cheering when the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" without leaving their seats. Much sympathy is expressed for Capt. Wright in his present trouble, and many believe him innocent of intentional wrong. It is thought the case against him, on which his counsel is tied up, may also fall through.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A SEAT in the New York Stock Exchange was sold last week for $30,000, the highest price paid since 1881.

MR. GLADSTONE will speak at Edinburgh on Nov. 11th, at West Calder on Nov. 17th, and Dalkeith on Nov. 21st.

MR. ANDREW CARNEGIE, the Pittsburg millionaire, intends presenting a marble bust of the poet BURNS to the National Wallace Memorial hall, at Stirling, Scotland.

THE Canadian Pacific has decided to establish a permanent exhibition in Montreal of products of Ontario, the Northwest Territory and British Columbia for the benefit of immigrants.

ALL of a pig except his squeak may be said to be utilized, now that they are making his blood into vest-buttons and using the cartilage of his feet in the manufacture of car springs.

THE Governor-General was called upon to make no less than twelve speeches in one day in Winnipeg an obligation which he fully met and which suggests the alteration of His Excellency's motto to "Virtute et verbis."

LIEUT.-COL. KIRKPATRICK, Speaker of the House of Commons, has resigned the coloneley of the 47th Battalion, owing to some objection entered by MAJOR-GENERAL MIDDLETON respecting the acceptance of a gift from the men of his battalion.

THE French government has interdicted the use of English coal for making patent fuel on board French men-of-war, on the ground that the fleet cannot be dependant on England, the government of which might even in war forbid the exportation of coal.

THE largest item of freight shipped from Chicago is lumber. Most of it is carried by the roads that penetrate the new country west of the Mississippi. During the year 1884 six principal roads delivered at Chicago 940,147,000 feet of lumber—a prodigious business.

FOUR tenders for the construction of the substructure of the new railway bridge across the St. Lawrence near Montreal have been received, and the contract will shortly be awarded. The time for receiving tenders for the iron super-structure has been extended to November 4th.

IN England the government stamp on patent medicine bottles causes many ignorant people to believe that there is an intention to guarantee the excellence or efficacy of the compound. For the future, therefore, the stamps for the purpose will bear the words: "This stamp implies no government guarantee."

EARNINGS of the Oregon Short Line during the month of August were $186,128, against $99,428 in August last year. During the first week of Oct. the Northern Pacific earned $340,765, and the O. R. & N. $133,899, against $304,800 and $102,981, respectively, in the corresponding week of October, 1884.

RAILWAYS precede settlement to some extent. This is largely the case with the territories of the Rocky Mountain region. The building of a railway to the Pacific was one of the greatest accomplishments of the age. If the government should lose every dollar which it guaranteed, it would still be the gainer by hundreds of millions through the building of the first railway to the Pacific. The same will probably prove to be the case with the Canadian Pacific. The railway was a necessity to keep British Columbia attached to the British Empire. With no communication except with the American Pacific States, it must eventually have cast its lot with them. The Canadian Pacific makes a change.

AN opposition always has up-hill work in a by-election, and it is peculiarly difficult work in Canada, because SIR JOHN MACDONALD believes in carrying every constituency that is opened, for the moral support it will give him throughout the country. On the other hand, the Liberal leaders seem to go on the principle that unless the local Liberals can carry it by their own exertions it is not worth winning. It is only natural that, as a consequence, the local opposition should be crushed before the weight of government influence, and seat after seat lost. The victories of Antigonish and St. John have strengthened the administration more than it was weakened by all the assaults of the opposition last session.

POLITICAL CHANGES.

From Ottawa comes the report that in consequence of his continued illness SIR LEONARD TILLEY has resigned the position of Finance Minister and will at once vacate his seat in the Commons for St. John. It is further stated that he will again assume the office of Lieut.-Governor of New Brunswick, an office which he held from the 17th Nov., 1873, until July 11, 1878, resigning several months prior to the expiration of the five years in order to re-enter the political arena. The government of which he was Finance Minister resigned on the 6th Nov., 1873, during the famous Pacific scandal debate. But his appointment to the Lieut.-Governorship had been promised him. There was considerable discussion over the affair at the time. His sitting in the House and voting on that all-important question with the written promise of the gubernatorial chair in his pocket was certainly questionable conduct. Had the incoming government of MR. MACKENZIE been strict to mark its disapproval of such a policy it would instantly have cancelled his appointment, which was not gazetted for fully a week after they assumed power. Throughout his career SIR LEONARD has been a strong temperance advocate. In his early days he was an avowed Liberal. With HON. MR. JUSTICE GRAY, now of this city, he was a strong advocate of confederation and was a member of the Charlottetown Conference of 1864. At one time he was known as a free trader, and deprecated the undue burdens heaped upon the people for that which he alleged to be unnecessary purposes. Like many others he abnegated this theory in his political catechism and became a most ardent protectionist, and as Minister of Finance in March, 1879, introduced the radical changes in the fiscal policy of Canada, now known as the National Policy. As Finance Minister he has been eminently fortunate. The government has had a large following, in the House and in the country, who have loyally supported his financial schemes. That the debt of the country has been enormously increased during his regime cannot be denied. The expenditure of vast sums of money on public works had the effect of keeping money in circulation, rendering business generally brisk. How far such a policy will be carried out in future remains to be seen. Personally he was held in high esteem by all parties, and believed to be a thorough, upright, conscientious politician.

The Toronto Mail of the 27th gives currency to the report that the HON. EDWARD BLAKE has resigned the leadership of the Liberal party. It says that "since MR. BLAKE himself has more than once referred to the matter himself, there will be no indelicacy in our saying that the demands of his position as leader have for some years literally forced him out of the pursuit of his profession. It would be bad enough to have to fight a losing battle under the most comfortable circumstances, but to have to fight it at a loss of $25,000 a year is a sacrifice which MR. BLAKE probably cannot afford, and one which he is not bound by any code of party fealty or personal honor to make."

Referring to the leadership of the Opposition, a despatch from Toronto states that at a meeting held in that city on the 25th after the question of establishing a club was freely discussed, the political situation was reviewed. Among those in attendance was the HON. ALEX. MACKENZIE, and as it was the first party caucus he attended since his deposition from the leadership of the Liberals, his presence caused some comment. Among the matters discussed was the leadership of the Opposition, and some dissatisfaction was expressed at HON. EDWARD BLAKE'S failure to awaken enthusiasm in the Reform ranks. It was stated that there was every possibility of the general elections coming on early next year, and what was wanted was a leader who would throw himself heart and soul into the campaign. This, it was feared, MR. BLAKE would be unable to do, as he has several cases coming before the Privy Council. These cases were to have been argued in November, but have been postponed until February, and as MR. BLAKE has received, so it was stated, some $14,000 to look after them, he will either have to abandon all hope of campaigning or return the fees already in his possession. No conclusion was arrived at, but the suppressed murmurings certainly did not indicate that MR. BLAKE'S stock stood at par. The feeling that MR. MOWAT should abandon local politics and enter the Dominion House, is growing, and if MR. BLAKE can be induced to gracefully retire there is no doubt but that MR. MOWAT will be his successor, and as a leader he would have the hearty co-operation of almost the entire party.

LORD SHAFTESBURY'S death gives LORD SALISBURY his first Garter. The Tories have been very unlucky with the blue ribbon, as only two stalls fell vacant during the six years of LORD BEACONSFIELD'S rule, and now there are nineteen Liberal Knights and only five Tories. LORD SHAFTESBURY'S place will be filled either by the DUKE OF NORTHUMBERLAND or the DUKE OF BUCCLEUCH.

The Ottawa Free Press says that Lieut.-Governor WILMOT has now been discharging the duties of his office for seven months after the expiration of his term, and Lieut.-Governor ROBINSON, of Ontario, for three months. It appears that in these offices, as well as every other, SIR JOHN MACDONALD is afraid to offend his followers by making a choice.

THE Northern Pacific Company, since its reorganization, has sold over 5,500,000 acres of land for more than $20,000,000. The company has already obtained out of its land grant money enough to build a thousand miles of its road, and it will have no cause to think itself badly treated upon the taking away of the remainder of the grant.

IT IS RECOGNIZED.

Eastern journals are commenting favorably on the fact that the British Government have taken the first step towards the recognition of the practical value of the Canada Pacific Railway by advertising for tenders for the conveyance of its mails from British Columbia to Hongkong, by way of Yokohama. And this is, no doubt, but the beginning of those uses which will be found for the new line. It is seen that it opens up a second avenue along which Imperial interests will run, affording an outlet to trade and communication not only in time of peace, but being especially serviceable when owing to war other channels may be closed up. Though the present action of the British government has reference to but one or two destinations, yet there is but little doubt that other points will soon present themselves. And Canada, too, will now be able to find an outlet for large quantities of its manufactured goods to countries from which it has been hitherto excluded. Not only will Australia and the Sandwich Islands be made accessible to our enterprise, but even China and Japan, countries in which the populations are immense, will be brought within the scope of ordinary transactions. In respect of machinery, goods manufactured from lumber of various kinds, tools, furniture, and a hundred other articles that we can supply the new road will open up fields to enterprise hitherto unsuspected. When these things are taken into the account, together with the development that it must be the means of creating within our own country, the public will come the better to understand the true signification of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Referring to the subject the San Francisco Chronicle says: The British government has advertised for tenders for carrying the Chinese mails from Hongkong via Yokohama, Japan, to Coal Harbor, B. C., thence by rail to Quebec, and thence by steamer in summer to Liverpool, and in winter by rail to Portland, Me., and thence by steamer to Liverpool. This route is several hundred miles shorter than the one by way of San Francisco and New York, as the higher latitude implies. It will not do for us to neglect the circumstances. It is true there is no trade between China and British Columbia, and that the ships will have to go practically empty on the voyage out and on the voyage home. It is also true that the Canadian Pacific is not yet completed, and that when it is completed, it will still be a problem whether it can be run with any degree of regularity through the snow wastes of the Saskatchewan and the barren desert of the Lake Superior country. We have been told by persons of information in the Dominion Parliament that it will not earn enough to pay the wages of the engineers and brakemen, and that it will be a mere question of time after it is started how soon the trains will have to be taken off. But all this is neither here nor there. The British government is not prone to go off at half-cock. When it advertises for tenders to carry the mail by way of Coal Harbor in preference to the Suez Canal route it must have grounds for believing that the service will be regular and permanent. It is of little moment to California what route the China mails take to reach this country; but it is of considerable indirect importance to San Francisco whether the tea traffic, which has latterly begun to be diverted from the Suez route to the direct line through this port, can be taken away from us by a competitor in the extreme north. It ought not to be possible for the Canadian Pacific to carry tea from Hongkong or Yokohama to Liverpool as cheaply as the Southern Pacific Company can carry it by way of San Francisco. But our railway people should not neglect the danger.

Montreal Gazette: The invitation for tenders for the conveyance of mails to Yokohama and Hongkong via Coal Harbor is indeed an important recognition of the Canadian Pacific route. It is of the highest consequence that such a contract as is contemplated should be closed, and it is earnestly to be hoped that the railway company will succeed in effecting an arrangement to that end. The Canadian route has an advantage of a thousand miles in distance as compared with that via San Francisco and New York, and with a moderate subsidy should be able to place a line of steamers on the Pacific plying between Coal Harbor and Yokohama. There is an enormous trade with Japan, China and the Australian colonies capable of development if proper enterprise is displayed by our people, the one advantage of a single line of railway from ocean to ocean being sufficient to turn the current of commerce in favor of Canada if adequately backed up.

THE LONDON SPECTATOR, a high priced weekly journal almost exclusively circulated among the wealthy classes, and never extravagant in its prophecies, says the result of the imperial general elections is "already past discussion" and that MR. GLADSTONE'S greatest difficulty "will be to drill a majority almost too numerous for discipline and to prevent its indulging in freaks in the very wantonness of strength." Those who know anything generally of the masses recently enfranchised, know that while they might hesitate in choosing between two democracies, they have no sympathy for the old Tory party. It is true that Lord Randolph Churchill appeals to their suffrage on a Tory Democratic platform, as its exponents are known to the newly enfranchised to have been almost to a man, those who opposed their enfranchisement. Whatever hope then there may be for the Tory Democratic party when another generation, which knew not the taskmakers, grows up, there is no hope for them from the present electors.

ROBUST HEALTH

Is not always enjoyed by those who seem to possess it. The taint of corrupted blood may be secretly undermining the constitution. In time, the poison will certainly show its effects, and with all the more virulence the longer it has been allowed to permeate the system. Each pimple, sty, boil, skin disorder and sense of unnatural lassitude, or languor, is one of Nature's warnings of the consequences of neglect.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only remedy that can be relied upon, in all cases, to eradicate the taint of hereditary disease and the special corruptions of the blood. It is the only alterative that is sufficiently powerful to thoroughly cleanse the system of Scrofulous and Mercurial impurities and the pollution of Contagious Diseases. It also neutralizes the poisons left by Diphtheria and Scarlet Fever, and enables rapid recuperation from the enfeeblement and debility caused by these diseases.

Myriads of Cures

Achieved by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, in the past forty years, are attested, and there is no blood disease, at all possible of cure, that will not yield to it. Whatever the ailments of this class, and wherever found, from the scurvy of the Arctic circle to the "veldt-sores" of South Africa, this remedy has afforded health to the sufferers by whom it was employed. Druggists everywhere can cite numerous cases, within their personal knowledge, of remarkable cures wrought by it, where all other treatment had been unavailing. People will do well to

Trust Nothing Else

than AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Numerous crude mixtures are offered to the public as "blood purifiers," which only allure the patient with the pretense of many cheap doses, and with which it is folly to experiment while disease is steadily becoming more deep-seated and difficult of cure. Some of these mixtures do much lasting harm. Bear in mind that the only medicine that can radically purify the vitiated blood is

A BY-LAW

For raising the sum of $16,000 to provide for and improve the Public Lighting of the City of Victoria.

WHEREAS the present Public Lighting of the City of Victoria is insufficient, and is expedient and necessary to extend and improve the same, and for that purpose to raise by way of loan, upon the credit of the said city the sum of $16,000;

And whereas it will require the sum of $1,128 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt intended to be hereby created and the interest thereon;

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said city, according to the last revised assessment roll, is $5,150,000;

And whereas it will require an annual special rate of 1-22 of one cent in the dollar for paying the interest and creating an equal yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said intended debt according to the Municipality Act 1881;

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said city to raise by way of loan from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate, who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $16,000, and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said city for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

2. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required, either in currency or sterling money, not less than $100 each, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the said Mayor.

3. The said debentures shall be made payable in twenty years from the day hereinafter mentioned for this By-Law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer, City Hall, Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at and after the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

5. For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and interest thereon at the rate aforesaid, an equal special rate of 1-22 of one cent in the dollar shall, in addition to all other rates, be assessed, raised, levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the said city of Victoria during the said term of twenty years from the coming into effect of this By-Law, unless such debentures shall be sooner paid.

6. It shall be lawful for the said Corporation from time to time to repurchase any of the said debentures at such price or prices as shall in each case be mutually agreed, and all debentures so repurchased shall be forthwith cancelled, and no reissue of debentures or of any debenture shall be made in consequence of such repurchase.

7. This By-Law shall, before the final passing thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipality Act 1881, and shall take effect on, from and after the day of the final passing thereof.

8. This By-Law may be cited for all purposes as the Public Lighting By-Law, 1885.

Passed the Municipal Council the 10th day of September, A. D. 1885.

Received the assent of the Ratepayers the 28th day of September, A. D. 1885.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the 30th day of September, A. D. 1885.

A BYLAW

For Raising the Sum of $3000 to Obtain Plans and Specifications for the Drainage of the City of Victoria.

WHEREAS IT IS EXPEDIENT AND NECESSARY to provide a complete and permanent system of Drainage for the City of Victoria, and before commencing the construction thereof to obtain plans and specifications for such a system upon the best sanitary and scientific principles.

And whereas for the purpose of obtaining such plans and specifications by public competition, it is expedient and necessary to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the said City, the sum of $3000.

And whereas it will require the sum of $196 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt intended to be hereby created and the interest thereon.

And whereas the amount of the whole rateable property of the said City, according to the last revised assessment roll, is $5,800,000.

And whereas it will require an annual special rate of 1-100 of a cent in the dollar for paying the interest and creating a yearly sinking fund for paying the principal of the said intended debt according to the Municipality Act, 1881.

Be it therefore enacted by the Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:—

1. It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the said City to raise by way of loan, from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same upon the credit of the debentures hereinafter mentioned a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $3000, and to cause the same to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said City for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums of money as may be required either in currency or sterling money not less than $100 each and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation, and signed by the said Mayor.

3. The said debentures shall be made payable in twenty years, from the day hereinafter mentioned, for this Bylaw to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer, City Hall, Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia, and shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of interest.

4. The said debentures shall bear interest at and after the rate of six per centum per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

5. For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures, and interest thereon, at the rate aforesaid, an equal special rate of 1-100 of one cent in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be assessed, raised, levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the said City of Victoria during the said term of twenty years from the coming into effect of this Bylaw, unless such debentures shall be sooner paid.

6. It shall be lawful for the said Corporation from time to time to re-purchase any of the said debentures at such price, or prices, as shall in each case be mutually agreed, and all debentures so re-purchased shall be forthwith cancelled, and no reissue of debentures shall be made in consequence of such re-purchase.

7. This Bylaw shall, before final passing thereof, receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided by the Municipality Act, 1881, and shall take effect on, from and after the day of the final passing thereof.

8. This Bylaw may be cited for all purposes as the Drainage Bylaw, 1885.

Passed the Municipal Council the [illegible] day of September, A. D. 1885.

Received the assent of the Ratepayers the [illegible] day of [illegible], 1885.

Reconsidered and finally passed the Council the [illegible] day of [illegible], A. D. 1885.

A DISAPPOINTED FINANCIER.

Henry Clews in a Bad Humor About the Bartholdi Pedestal Fund.

[Cor. Baltimore Herald.]

In New York last week, I met, while lunching in a down-town restaurant, that most genial of great financiers, Henry Clews. The old gentleman seemed to be in a bad humor, and finally, between chops and dessert, he burst out with: "This world contains about the smallest lot of individuals with whom I care to meet. About two years ago we began sending out daily price currents to our customers, giving beside a general resume of the different markets, valuable private information of a nature that was very useful to our patrons. These circulars were mailed gratuitously to our customers, and I suppose that in the two years that we have been issuing them they have cost us at least $10,000.

"Well, a few days ago we decided to ask those who had been benefitted by this outlay to subscribe small amounts to the Bartholdi pedestal fund, and accordingly a printed slip was sent out with the circulars asking the firms who had been deriving useful information from them to send us small sums, not as a subscription for the price currents nor to reimburse us for our outlay, but to provide for a portion of the expenses of building a pedestal for France's magnificent gift to the United States."

"And you collected a nice sum for the pedestal?" I said.

"Collected a nice sum," quoth the irate banker. "I should say we did. How much do you suppose we received after waiting a week for responses? Five dollars sir; five miserable dollars, and that came from a little commission firm in Baltimore that has hardly been in existence a year, and that has not been receiving the circular more than six months.

"With the very next issue of that circular we sent out another printed slip. It stated that with the present issue the publication of daily circulars by the firm of Henry Clews & Co. would cease as we had found that our outlay of $10,000 had only been worth $5 to one little Baltimore firm, and that while we were perfectly willing to go to the expense of editing, printing and mailing them, we did not care to lumber up our customers' waste-baskets with useless paper. Those circulars have stopped, sir, and they have stopped for good," and the great money king went back to his office, and I was left to ruminate on the smallness of brokers in general.

India's Dancing Girls.

[Mrs. Leonowen's Book.]

After a few moment's Saidah Bebee came up to greet the Lady Kesineh. She salaamed most deferentially to us, and took her place on the floor. At my special request we were shown into the entire establishment. There were over 100 girls of all ages and shades of complexion, from dark brown, to pale, delicate olive, going through their exercises at the time.

The hall was composed of bamboo trellis work, and was light, spacious, and airy enough. From the roof hung all sorts of gymnastic apparatus, rude but curious—ropes to which the girls clung as they whirled around on tiptoe; wheels on which they were made to walk in order to learn a peculiar circular dance, called "chakranee" (from "chak," a wheel); slipknots into which they fastened one arm and one leg, thus holding it motionless while they exercised the other; cups, revolving balls, which they sprang up to catch; and heaps of fragile cords, with which they spin round and round, and if any one of these snap under too great a pressure they are punished, though never very severely.

Altogether, it was a strange sight. Most of the girls from 10 to 14 had nothing on but a short, tight pair of drawers; the older ones had tight, short-sleeved bodices in addition to the drawers, and those under 10 were naked. They were all good looking; a few here and there were beautiful. The delicate and refined outline of their features, the soft tint of their rich complexions, the dreamy expression of their large, dark, quiet eyes, added to great symmetry of form, made them strongly fascinating.

A Good "Coaly" Dog.

[Chicago Herald "Train Talk."]

"Expect they had some fine pups at the Chicago dog show," remarked a passenger from Ohio, "but I have a dog at home I wouldn't trade for the best of 'em."

"What breed is he?"

"Don't know exactly, but call him a coaly."

"Collie, you mean?"

"No, I mean just what I say—coaly. Money wouldn't buy that dog. He's a cur, but we couldn't keep house without him. You see several years ago I trained him to bark at the railway trains as they passed our house. That's his sole business—barking at trains. Well, he annoys the railroad men so that every fireman and brakeman on the road has sworn to kill him. Oh, but he is a valuable dog."

"I can't see where the value comes in."

"You can't? Well, you could if you was in my place and had all the coal you could burn and some to sell thrown right off at your back door, free of cost."

A Revivalist's Pithy Sayings.

[Chicago Journal.]

Here are some of the pithy sayings of the Rev. Samuel Jones, of Georgia, who is conducting an extraordinary revival at Nashville, Tenn.: "What is culture worth if it's nothin' but whitewash on a rascal?" "I'd rather be in heaven learnin' my A B C's than in hell reading Greek." "Some preachers are so elegant that they speak of hell as the 'burnt district,' but this sort of dignity is the starch of a shroud." "Heaven is on a dead level with every good man, and every good man will be provided for in some way." "Will honest men starve? God will feed an honest man if he has to put the angels on half rations." "Be honest and pay your debts. There's too many men in the church boarding with their wives." "Pull up your doubts by the roots and you'll find a seed at the bottom, and that seed is sin." "A lie is always on the down grade, but the truth you have to hitch an engine to."

Chinese Cooking.

[Exchange.]

Coal is said to be an almost unknown luxury to the Chinese of San Francisco. Their mode of cooking is to have an empty oil-can serve as a stove, upon which they place their tea kettle or cooking-pan. They start a fire with two or three small sticks of wood, which they add to as they burn, and in this way manage to establish a good degree of heat with but a small expenditure of fuel.

The Trinity of Civilization.

[United Service.]

The fact is, very little can occur in this world that does not almost directly concern us in some manner. The great trinity of civilization, railroads, telegraphs and steamships have revolutionized all our ideas of the dependence of nations upon each other.

A TURKMAN SONG.

[R. H. Stoddard in Town Topics.]

I.

Proudly she walks in the bazaar;
I see her bright red dress afar;
I fear that she will come to me,
Ah, woe is me, Ferruh!
She kindles in my heart a fire,
The fever of a fierce desire;
O do not cruel be;
Do not spill my blood, Ferruh!
I live for you, I live for you!

II.

I write your sweet name on a scroll,
As I have written it in my soul,
And pray that you will come to me,
Ah, woe is me, Ferruh!
Your father's sword is sharp and bright;
I will steal you yet on some dark night,
So do not cruel be;
You must not spill my blood, Ferruh!
I die for you, I die for you!

New Uses of Electricity.

[Demorest's Monthly.]

The possibilities of electricity have been known to men of science for many years, but its actualities are being realized only in our own times. It is now being introduced into mines for a great variety of uses, especially as an illuminant; but also as a motive power and a means of communication. It has replaced the old tallow candle, and there is no longer any need of the safety lamp, for the light can be carried in hand and is so brilliant that labor can be continued for the whole twenty-four hours. Its use in lighting cities has had one curious result. It has diminished crime, for deeds of murder and robbery are usually accomplished under cover of darkness. Statistics prove that crime of all kinds has diminished in the portions of cities that have been well lighted.

Another fact of great interest is that plant life thrives best under a continuous electrical light. It is superior to sunlight, because the latter is necessarily intermittent. Plants, it should be remembered, require moisture, heat, and light to mature. It has long been noticed that the foliage subject to the midnight sun of Norway was exceptionally brilliant and vital, due to the fact of there being no night for half the year to obscure the rays of the great luminary. It is now suspected that in hot-houses and conservatories the use of electricity after the sun goes down will produce remarkable results in the way of plant development, notwithstanding the wonders already brought to light by this subtile power of nature. Scientists say that we now know only the A B C's of electricity. When all its factors are combined for the use of man there will be created for him a new and wonderful environment.

Crawling Out of His Skin.

[New York World.]

The big boa constrictor shed his skin in Central park one spring afternoon. He was stiff from the long winter's sleep, and as his head swayed from side to side the mottled skin began to break just back of his neck. The head swung from side to side more violently still, and the rent back of his neck grew larger. A piece of skin, transparent, and looking like pure honeycomb, dropped off and fell to the bottom of the cage. By this time a great crowd of curious visitors pressed about the glass inclosure, watching the boa's efforts to peel off the old skin.

Sliding up to the wooden sash that held the panes of glass he pulled his length along, scraping the old skin off against the sharp partition. Very slowly the sinuous folds moved by, and it was fifteen minutes before a strip of flaky skin, somewhat like the scales of a big fish, was peeled off. This showed a narrow strip of new shiny skin beneath; but the strip peeled off was only about two inches wide so the lumbering snake turned around and began scraping off the flakes in the same way on the other side. So the process was kept up until he finally emerged looking fresh and slimy and glistening in his new mottled dress. The other boa has not yet parted with its last year's skin.

Why They Fail.

[Lancaster (Pa.) New Era.]

The other evening a number of students were refreshing themselves in a restaurant after several hours exhausting mental labor in calculating the chances of one able-bodied man batting a ball and another agile fellow catching it and putting out another one less agile. They had spent the afternoon at a game of base ball and of course were greatly in need of refreshments after their exhausting occupation. During the evening the conversation turned on their college life and the application to their studies demanded by the faculty of those who would graduate with honor.

The poor fellows who spent the afternoon in their rooms pursuing their studies preparatory to next day's recitations and lectures were commiserated by these more easy-going students, while the general sentiment of the party was voiced by one of their number, who said: "I did not come to college to study—I came to be taught." The measure this young man takes of college life and the opportunities which it offers to those who rightly improve them is the key which unlocks the secret of many a young man's failure in life.

Novel Wax-Works Exhibition.

[St. James' Gazette.]

Wax-works, according to Mrs. Jarley, are not to be described as funny; they are classical. It seems that they may also become historical. A curious exhibition—not very happily known as the miniature Mme. Tussaud's—has been opened at 23 Rutland gate, which consists of history illustrated by wax dolls. Little groups of miniature figures representing tableaux from English history have been formed, and the dolls are "dressed" with due regard to archæological accuracy. Raleigh spreads his cloak before Elizabeth, and York and Somerset pluck the roses in the Temple gardens with all the vivacity of life. The show has been devised for the benefit of the Girls' Friendly society, and it seems to be a great improvement on the hackneyed and now rather too frequent charity bazaar or fancy fair.

Reducing the Human Nose.

[Medical Journal.]

An English physician claims to have discovered a method of reducing the human nose. The process, which he calls "multiple punctiform scarification," consists in rapidly prickling the nose with a number of minute double-edged steel blades fixed in a handle. From 500 to 3,000 punctures are made at a sitting, and the operation is performed every week or two for some months; meanwhile the organ is kept well anointed. At first sight the operation does not seem attractive, but the doctor says it "is not painful."

An Accidental Discovery.

[Exchange.]

An accident in a Melbourne foundry has led to the discovery that plunging iron castings into a mixture of treacle and water softens the metal to such a degree that it can be punched, bored and tapped as readily as wrought iron.

Germs Taking Root in the Lungs.

[Arkansaw Traveler.]

"In the ordinary healthy lung," says Dr. Curtis, "perhaps even in persons who have a consumptive heredity, the germ which causes the break-down of the lung may not be able to make an impression; but if the physical integrity is destroyed by poor food, or any debilitating influence, or by a cold, then the germ is able to get in its work, and to multiply and produce its kind, and fill the lungs with tubercles."

SUBSCRIBERS IN ARREARS

For their subscription to THE TIMES will oblige by settling same during the present week. The individual indebtedness is not large, yet when these sums are aggregated the amount is a considerable one. It is to be hoped this appeal will be responded to in a generous manner.

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Victoria Assizes open on the 23rd inst., and may last two weeks.

—Mrs. Hampson is in Olympia and will shortly begin a mission.

—Before purchasing Real Estate or insuring your life, see Rand Bros.

—Mr. B. Hall, of Chemainus, will lose two fingers, the result of a bruise in a threshing machine.

—We understand that the Presbyterians of New Westminster have in contemplation the erection of a manse for their minister next spring.

—The C. P. R. receipts for the week ending Oct. 21st, show an increase of $19,000 over that of the corresponding week of last year.

—Messrs. Dufour & Co. will sell by auction on Thursday and Friday, a choice collection of oil paintings, framed in massive gilt frames.

—The slogger, Young Dutchey, knocked out Billy Lynn at City View Park, Portland, on Saturday. It was a rough and tumble fight, in which the bullies pummeled each other in approved style.

—Given away three times every day; the best two-bit meal in town, at the C. P. R. Dining Hall, corner Douglas and Johnson streets, up stairs. No Chinese whatever employed.

—The Odd Fellows of the city will give a social entertainment in their lodge room on Tuesday evening next, closing with a dance. A very pleasant evening may be looked forward to by those who propose attending.

—The last Chinaman has left Whatcom. It is only a question of a short time until the last has bid a final farewell to Seattle and Tacoma. The united efforts of the white men there are accomplishing great results.

—Theater Comique was well patronized last night. Barnum's elephant was laughable and the Henderson's made a hit on their first appearance. The other attractions and specialties were received with loud applause, and nearly all had to respond with an encore.

—Three workmen, engaged in cementing the outside of the Bishop's Palace, on Yates street, fell from the top scaffold to the ground this afternoon, but fortunately only sustained a few scratches and bruises. The accident was caused by one of the cross pieces of the scaffolding giving way. They escaped very fortunately.

—The steamer Olympian brought freight to-day for Qwong Chung, M W Waitt, S J Pitts, C Lombard, J B Ferguson, S L Kelly & Co, Mrs M Sprott, Mrs C McCarty, Sera & Deans, M R Smith, Neufelder & Ross, A Ofner, S Leiser, Hastings S M Co, Belmont B & S Co, R Carr, W Heathorn, H Stephens, T Earl, A J Rowbotham & Co, W E Magan, A J Baker.

VANCOUVER.

INQUEST ON A KANAKA.

An inquest was held this afternoon by Superintendent Roycraft on the body of a Kanaka, found dead in a cabin near Rock Bay bridge. Deceased, while boarding a sloop on Friday night fell into the water. He returned to his cabin and on Sunday night died. Two companions left suddenly for the Sound, which created a suspicion that there had been foul play. Dr. Chipps examined the body, but found no marks of violence. The inquest was still proceeding at the time we went to press.

INQUEST AT THE GAOL.

Coroner Johnson and a jury composed of Messrs. J. F. Hunt, G. Smith, F. Worth, J. Eullen, H. Cathcart and F. Carne, sen., held an inquest on the body of the man who died in the gaol yesterday morning. The evidence of the constables, a guard, Mr. S. Clay and Dr. Chipp was taken, and the jury, without retiring, returned a verdict of death from natural causes, at the same time censuring the gaol authorities for tardiness in summoning medical assistance.

RIEL PREPARING FOR ETERNITY.

At the Roman Catholic services in Regina on the 26th, Pere Andre recommended his flock to pray for Riel, in view of his probable execution on the 10th inst. Little hope is entertained there of the rebel leader's escape from the executioner. Riel has fully realized his situation, and is unceasing in prayer. He speaks highly of Father Andre's attention to him.

THE PIONEER TAILOR.

Notwithstanding the ups and downs and many changes that has taken place in Victoria and British Columbia since the famous times of '58, Mr. A. Gilmore, Johnson street, has always been to the fore. His store now is replete with a full stock of goods for the fall and winter season, which he is selling at prices cheaper than ever before offered in Victoria. He also makes garments to order and guarantees perfect fits. Give him a call.

LIBERAL OFFER.

We will supply the Toronto Weekly Globe to the end of 1886 for $1 to new Subscribers.

Subscriptions received also for any Periodical published in the world. Canadian, English and American papers a specialty. Supplied at publisher's price or very slight advance. The sooner you order the more you get for your money.

POLICE COURT.

(Before E. Johnson, S. M.)

TUESDAY, Nov. 3rd.

James McCartey for being drunk was fined $5, in default one week.

Esther, an Indian, charged with being drunk; fined $5 and $1 costs, in default, one week.

James McCartey, with stealing a bracelet from the house of Jenny Lee. Prisoner pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one month's imprisonment with hard labor.

Ah Hong, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences; remanded till to-morrow.

VAGRANCY.

William Hittle, for vagrancy on remand. Mr. Walls appeared for the defendant.

Constable Lindsay—I have known defendent for the past two months; I know him to be an idle and disorderly person; have never known him to do any work. The defendent to the best of my belief lives in a house of ill-fame.

D. Clements, sworn—I am a cooper carrying on business on Johnson street. I know defendant; he is working for me; he is a good worker and steady. He has worked for me since Friday last. I pay him $2 per day. I am satisfied with his work. I don't know where he lives.

Mr. Johnson said he thought there were strong grounds for instituting the prosecution. I must, however, discharge him this time, but if brought up again on the same charge I shall take into consideration what has been brought to light in this case.

ATTEMPT TO RAVISH.

Frank M. York, examination continued from yesterday.

Mr. Davie said:—I wish to state that I had no intention to take any interest in this case; but after the disclosures in the press of yesterday, in justice to myself I will conduct this case for the defendant under the instructions of Mr. Walls to the close. I wish therefore to recall Mrs. Pettingill and Capt. McCallup, for further cross-examination.

Mr. Mills said:—The cross-examination of Mrs. Pettingill has been concluded, and if Mr. Davie recalls her he must recall her as his own witness.

The order for the witnesses to be excluded from the court was rescinded.

The magistrate noted the objection Mr. Mills put forward with regard to the recall of Mrs. Pettingill and Capt. McCallup.

Mrs. Howe, sworn:—I lived on Rae street, next door to Mrs. Pettingill, on the 21st of August. I do not remember the date exactly. All I know is what Mrs. Pettingill told me. First she called me in while she was up stairs. I did not hear Mrs. Pettingill call when up stairs. I was putting my baby to bed in the front room when I heard Mrs. Pettingill call; she was then standing at her front door with her two little boys in their night dresses. I asked her if she was sick; she said no. She then asked me to come in. I asked her what was the matter; she did not answer me for a little. In the meantime York came down stairs with a lamp in his hand, and she told York to leave the house. She seemed very much frightened. The children were standing by her. I did not notice their condition. She asked if Mr. Luinstein and Mr. Clucklow were in my house. I called them and they came in. They have rooms in my house. Mrs. Pettingill told me of the affair, and York asked me if I believed it. I told him I must believe it. York then said it was not so, and in a little while he called Mrs. Pettingill a liar. He shook his hand before us and said it was not so.

To Mr. Davie: Mr. York was up stairs when Mrs. Pettingill told me what he had done to her. I think she told me before York came down stairs. York had his pants and undershirt on. I do not know if he had his boots on. I think he had only his undershirt on and his pants. Immediately I heard Mrs. Pettingill shouting I came out, and saw her at the front door; she had the door open. After Mr. York left the house I went up stairs with Mrs. Pettingill. I don't know whether there was a light in Mrs. Pettingill's bedroom; I don't think so. I saw Mrs. Pettingill in the hall.

To Mr. Mills: We all went into the dining room, that is Mrs. Pettingill, Mr Luinstein, Mr. Clucklow and myself. We took a light up stairs with us. We went into York's bed-room, to see if there were any matches. There was a box on the floor or on the bureau, I can't say which.

Mr. Howe, sworn:—I am a hotel-keeper at present. I lived on Rae street next to Mr. Pettingill on the 21st August, the last witness is my wife. I know the prisoner York. I was not at home on the evening of the 21st August. On returning home that night I heard about it. I met York twice the next day after the occurrence. I met him in the forenoon about 11 o'clock and again in the afternoon. On the first occasion he asked me if I had heard anything about him. I said I had. He asked if Mrs. Pettingill had anything to say about him, and I said she had a great deal to say about him. He then said, "what is the matter with the woman; she must be crazy; I never went near her." He again spoke to me about one o'clock. He asked me if I thought he could settle this case with Pettingill for money. I told him that Mr. Pettingill had spoken to me about it, and from what he said I thought the only way he could settle it was by leaving the country. He laughed and then went away. He did not say what the business was he wished to settle.

To Mr. Davie:—This was before Pettingill had York arrested for carrying concealed weapons. I had some conversation with Mrs. Pettingill about York; I had also several conversations with Clucklow in reference to the matter. Both Clucklow and Luinstein told me that Mrs. Pettingill had said she could not be sure whether York had put his foot on the bed or not. She did not appear to have told them anything more of the affair.

To Mr. Mills:—I had a conversation with Mrs. Pettingill on Saturday morning; my wife was present. It was about what had taken place the night previous. She said that Mr. Pettingill had gone away and that she was alone in bed with her two children. She said she had left a light burning in the hall, until Mr. York came home, when she requested him to blow it out. She said York asked her where the alarm clock was, as he wanted to go to work early in the morning. She said the clock was down in the kitchen. He got the clock, and said he did not understand how to fix it. She said it was already set and all he had to do was to wind it up. He said he could not do it, and she said she certainly could not. He then asked for matches; she said she thought there were some in his room. He answered there was none in his room, and she asked him to look in the other rooms. She said he seemed to have found matches as she heard him talking to himself at a distance something about the matches would not burn. The next thing she knew he was coming into her room. She cried to him that he was coming into her room. He answered that he thought he could do her some good. She screamed and he immediately put his hand on her mouth. She said she struggled and got away from him and ran to the window and called for me. I think she told me that she thought he put his leg up on the bed. She then went down stairs and called on my wife, just as she was. This statement is as near to what she told me as I can remember. This conversation took place in my house. She appeared very much excited and indignant. She was crying a little. I think I saw the children that morning. Mrs. Pettingill said that one of the little boys would not go up stairs alone.

Court resumed at 2 p. m.

Mr. Clucklow, sworn:—I am a carpenter. I lived in Rae street in Mr. Howe's house on the 21st August. I remember the night of the trouble in Pettingill's house. I was called into Pettingill's by Mrs. Howe; when I got to Mrs. Pettingill was sitting on the lounge with her two children in the dining room. She was crying bitterly. Both she and the children were in their night dresses; she had something over her shoulders. Mrs. Howe introduced me to Mrs. Pettingill. I asked her what was the matter. York was present. I see York in court; I never was acquainted with him before that evening. She told me she was assaulted by York, and she wanted him put out. I wanted to know what was the matter. She stated that Mr. York came up to her room and enquired for matches. (This witnesses' evidence at this point was similar to that already given.)

I asked Mrs. Pettingill what she wanted done. She said I want that man put out of the house. I told her I had no right to put the man out; she had better send for a policeman, and that I would stay until a policeman came. Mr. Luinstein then volunteered to go for a policeman and did so. Mr. York said, "what in h—ll do you want?" I told him I would protect the woman until a policeman came, and if he wanted any more out of me he could find me any time. We had some rough words. He quieted down, and I walked up to him and told him he would be better to leave the house and create no more disturbance. He said to me, "G—d—n you, keep your mouth shut, or I will get my Irish up." I answered him back, "that will just suit me; you get your Irish up and I will get my Dutch." He then said he would go up to his room and get some things, as he was ready to leave. He went up stairs and was gone perhaps two or three minutes. He came down again and stepped up to the door and addressed Mrs. Pettingill, and said, "Mrs. Pettingill, you are laboring under a great mistake;" I said you agreed to leave the house and he said I am ready, but I want you outside; I went with him to the front door; he went down the steps and to the front gate and stood there and said now come down here I want to see you; but I was not fool enough to accept his invitation; I had no fire-arms in my possession. I was not in court when the other evidence was taken.

Mr. Davie here protested against the evidence. The court was not entitled to take any evidence that would not be allowed at the assizes. This witness may not be present at the trial and may be over the Sound and the deposition be read and influence the jury.

Mr. Mills insisted on the evidence being taken, though being out of the general order of things, it was quite in order under the circumstances. Mr. Mills was againsustained and the evidence was accepted.

To Mr. Davie:—Mrs. Pettingill told me York went up stairs to get a pistol. York was dressed when I saw him; it was not more than ten minutes after the screaming when Mrs. Howe called for Mr. Luinstein; he answered her and she came up stairs; when I went in York was standing against the door jamb. Mrs. Pettingill did not say anything about an alarm clock. Mr. Howe was present when she made her statement to me. I am a carpenter; I lived all over the United States before I came to Victoria. Lived in Tacoma last. I left there because there was no work. I was in San Francisco before that. I left there for private reasons. I can't say what night of the week it was. I had been home over an hour. I heard the scream, but did not pay any attention to it. I never told anybody what evidence I would give in court. Mr. Mills asked me one or two questions. I don't know Capt. McAllep. The first time I saw him was in court.

Sergt. Shepherd, sworn: I produce a copy of the warrant which was served on York. The warrant was not executed as York had gone away.

To Mr. Davie—The warrant, I believe, was issued on the information of Mr. Pettingill. York had been arrested before that for carrying a concealed weapon; I received my orders from the Chief of Police. Officer Walker said he saw him go away. I think it was after he left the warrant came in. York was arrested on the Pilot.

Mr. Luinstein, sworn: I am a jeweler, I work at Redfern's; I lived at Mr. Howe's on Rae street on the 21st August. I was one of the parties that was called in to Pettingill's. Mrs. Pettingill was sitting in a chair; I think she had dark clothes on. I was called by Mrs. Howe, who told me that Mrs. Pettingill was in trouble and wanted some one in. York was in Pettingill's when I went in. I heard the conversation. Mrs. Pettingill cried and said she did not like to tell; Mrs. Howe said do; then she said I will. (Evidence of similar import to some already published was here given.) I went for a policeman; I saw the chief; I don't know his name. A policeman did not come to the house while I was there.

Captain McAllep, recalled:—To Mr. Davie—I had a room in Mr. Pettingill's house. I think there were other two, York and Mr. Wood. The time I was there I was connected with the stevedore business. I was in partnership with Captain Cushing. York, I believe, was in the same business. I did not consider him in opposition. There was some competition in the business. The ordinary rates for discharging was 45c per ton. It was never higher to my knowledge. The rate was as high as 60c on the other side. If York cut the rates down I know nothing about it. McPhadden was our principal competitor. I came here only as a witness. I had no conversation with Mr. Mills regarding this case. I have a partner named McDonald in Seattle. I have discovered since yesterday that McDonald is Pettingill's cousin. This case has nothing to do with the expulsion of York from this place.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution, and the court proceeded to read it over to defendant.
